PREFACE

This publication is an organizational and functional guide to the domestic headquarters units of the USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs, including ambassadors at large whose permanent posts are in Moscow, officials of the Leningrad Diplomatic Agency, and the foreign ministers of the USSR's constituent republics. To aid the users in keeping track of senior foreign service officials, the publication also includes a list of ambassadors who are currently serving as chiefs of mission abroad.

The directory includes, where available, the full name, date of birth, diplomatic rank, and desk or other specialized assignment for each official. For senior officials and some others, comments on the career or previous activities have been included. An organizational index and a table of Russian equivalents for diplomatic ranks and positions are also provided. Officials mentioned in the directory are listed in an alphabetical index, and all abbreviations and acronyms used are explained in a glossary. In contrast to previous editions, officials of unidentified components have not been included.

The information in the directory includes anything received by 10 July 1980. Users are encouraged to notify the issuing office of any omissions, errors or new information, so that appropriate changes can be made in the next edition.

This publication supersedes CR 77-11829, Directory of Headquarters Personnel, USSR Ministry of Foreign Affairs, April 1977.
